

TRIASSIC

Gojirasaurus

9

weight: over 9,000 tons

8

speed: up to 80 mph

C

diet: carnivore

60

damage: 60 points

special skill: largest dinosaur of era

TRIASSIC

Gojirasaurus

9

weight: over 9,000 tons

8

speed: up to 80 mph

C

diet: carnivore

60

damage: 60 points

special skill: largest dinosaur of era

Gojirasaurus

lived in what is now Tokyo harbor and ate mostly raw fish and pickled plums.

Occasionally it devastated nuclear reactors in its wake.

Its descendants are pocket-size.

Brachiosaurus

9

weight: over 9,000 tons

4

speed: up to 40 mph

H

diet: herbivore

60

damage: 60 points

special skill: eating entire trees

Brachiosaurus

9

weight: over 9,000 tons

4

speed: up to 40 mph

H

diet: herbivore

60

damage: 60 points

special skill: eating entire trees

Brachiosaurus

ate fruits the size of its head and spent much of its time on the beach. It could crush a school bus if you found it around today.

Brachiosaurus itself, however, was not very tasty.

CRETACEOUS

Hadrosaur

9

weight: 23 tons

2

speed: up to 20 mph

C

diet: carnivore

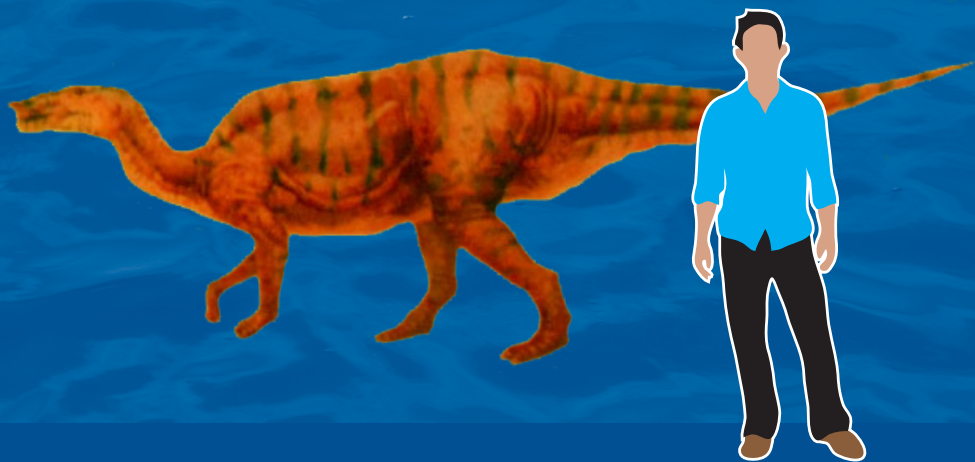

30

damage: 30 points

special skill: ninja speeds

CRETACEOUS

Hadrosaur

9

weight: 23 tons

2

speed: up to 20 mph

C

diet: carnivore

30

damage: 30 points

special skill: ninja speeds

Hadrosaur

was a wicked, thoughtless dinosaur. It often offended its closest family members and as such was a solitary animal.

The Hadrosaur's diet was not unlike modern coastal Swedish cuisine.

Trigonias

8

weight: over 80 tons

1

speed: up to 10 mph

H

diet: herbivore

30

damage: 30 points

special skill: looks like a rhinoceros

PALEOGENE

Trigonias

8

weight: over 80 tons

1

speed: up to 10 mph

H

diet: herbivore

30

damage: 30 points

special skill: looks like a rhinoceros

Trigonias

Trigonias was a windy beast. It huffed and puffed from West to East.

And when there was nothing left to say, it would simply blow itself away.

